Gamma Phi, Beta Sig Win Derby High-Scoring Honors

DICK WOOD, Sigma Chi president, presents trophies to the presidents of Chi Omega sorority, Gamma Phi Beta sorority, and Beta Sigma fraternity, at the conclusion of Derby Day Saturday.

By JIM ANDERSON

The sun shone, the bands played, the greased pig almost got away, and Sigma Chi's Derby Day was a whopping success.

Gamma Phi Beta took high-scoring honors on the feminine side of Saturday's festivities, while Beta Sigma was grabbing first place among the men.

Chi Omega, complete with drum majorette, marching band, and a "two-in-one horse," displayed the spirit most likely to win a gold cup, and did just that.

Only two first places eluded the pajama-clad Gamma Phis, defending champettes, as they piled up 28 points to Williams Hall's second place 12. Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Gamma Delta, and Theta Phi were third, fourth, and fifth, respectively.

Beta Sigma copped firsts in the egg and balloon races, then came through with enough seconds and thirds to win with 23 points. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was a close second with 20 points, followed by the defending champs, Alpha Tau Omega, with 18. Sigma Nu and the tying MIS and Delta Upsilon teams rounded out the first five places.

In the men's mystery event, Bud Mundi, Delta Upsilon, and Dick Stensby, Sigma Nu, successfully came to grips with a determined greased porker after a wild chase and inspired mob scene somewhere between the heating plant and the Commons.

The women's mystery event, a lively rooster hotly pursued by livelier chicks, was taken by WIS Lois Conrad. Dinner was served shortly thereafter.

Emerging happy and unspattered in the egg-toss contests were Jeanne Stiffney and Verna Harding of Gamma Phi Beta and Jerry Kempter and Steve Galetti of SAE.

The winners' trophies were accepted by Sophie Papachrist of Chi Omega, Polly Miller of Gamma Phi Beta, and Bob Ruddy of Beta Sigma.

Judges were Mrs. Margaret Smith, Mrs. Eva Farmer, and Mrs. Grace Carson, house mothers of Sigma Chi, Gamma Phi Beta, and Alpha Tau Omega.

Jim Milburn and his Sigma Chi crew are to be commended for their handling of the entire affair, as are all those who contributed to the spirit shown by their particular groups.

Delta Upsilon Captures Top Honors At Interfrat Sing

Delta Upsilon fraternity won the annual interfraternity sing held in the Men's Gym Thursday evening before a large audience.

Beta Sigma was rated second, Theta Chi third, and Sigma Chi, Phi Delta, and Kappa Sigma were given honorable mention.

Fourteen fraternities competed in the affair which is sponsored by the Wood County Interfraternity Club.

Each fraternity was required to sing "Steal Away" and two other songs of their own choice. Contest rules also required each fraternity to have 75 percent of its membership participating.

This was the fourth year of competition for the WCIC trophy which will be presented to Delta Upsilon at Honors Day. Previous winners have been Sigma Chi and Kappa Sigma.

SAE Awarded Province Trophy

The local chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon was host to a 2-day province convention last weekend. Delegates from 14 chapters in the Michigan-Indiana-Ohio area attended the confab.

The Bowling Green chapter of SAE was awarded the province scholarship trophy. Averages were figured over a 2-year period. The chapter will keep the trophy until the spring of 1952.

The local chapter was further honored when Ivan Lake, fraternity adviser and a BG alumnus, was named vice president of the province.

Highlighting the weekend of conferences and committee meetings was a formal dinner-dance Saturday night. Hurst R. Anderson, president of Hamline University and a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan was the principal speaker at the dinner. Past National President Ginter and retiring Recorder Lauren Foreman also attended the convention.

Soloists Present Elijah Effectively

The story of Elijah and his efforts to turn the people of Israel from idolatry to God was told by four accomplished soloists and a 300 voice chorus at the Men's Gym Sunday.

Joseph Himmel, Elijah; Carleton Eldridge, Obadiah and Ahab; Maryjane Albright, the Widow; Gladys Winterrowd, the Angel; and the chorus; people of Israel, presented Felix Mendelssohn's stirring oratorio, "Elijah," the powerful tale of the Miracle on Mt. Carmel, Elijah's prophecy of drought and famine and his journey to Mt. Horeb where he hears the "still small voice of God."

The impressive work of the soloists, University Choral Society, and Bowling Green State University Orchestra, all under the direction of James Paul Kennedy, professor of music, enabled the seventh season of the Spring Concert to be one of the most inspiring ever presented.

The Spring Concert was founded by Merrill C. McEwen, professor of music.

Editor Addresses Home Economics Club At Banquet

Miss Helen Robertson, home economics editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, will speak at the Home Economics Club Banquet to be held May 10 at 6:30 at the Women's Club.

Speaking on the Subject "Saying It In Writing," Miss Robertson will be assisted by Mrs. Florence LeGanke Harris, who is a consultant in home economics in Cleveland.

A native of Missouri, Miss Robertson attended Drake University in Des Moines, where she received the degree of bachelor of science in home economics.

She later attended the Fanny Farmer Cooking School in Boston. From there she went to New York, where she received training as a dietitian in Mount Sinai hospital. After finishing the course she became dietitian for the Fifth Avenue Hospital in New York, at the same time continuing her studies at Columbia University.

In 1923 she became instructor dietitian in the Presbyterian Hospital, Chicago. Then she went to St. Louis, where she remained for two and a half years, and from there to Des Moines. More than a year ago she was one of the recipients of Life Line of America Trophies from the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc., for outstanding work in interpreting the facts concerning the United States food supply to American women.

Miss Robertson has been home economics editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer since February, 1930. She had formerly been household editor for the Tribune-Capital in Des Moines. Newly elected Home Economics Club officers will be formally initiated at the banquet. They are Sally Moulton, president; Virginia Orthwein, vice president; Louise Freeman, secretary; and Martha Baden, treasurer.

The much publicized event has been given another boost by the participation of various organizations on campus in a display contest. Each participating group has made a display, with track relays as a theme, and placed it in a downtown store window. After the displays are judged, trophies will be awarded for first and second places.

Plans for the all-day affair call for a parade, starting downtown and proceeding up East Wooster, if the University band is available. An honorary referee for the affair is yet to be named.

Immediately preceding the start of the Bowling Green Relays, all the participating athletes from the ten or more visiting colleges and universities will form the main body of a procession about the track in front of the Stadium. This procession will end with appropriate flag raising ceremonies at the east end of the field with a Reserve Officers Training Corps unit doing the honors.

Originally, plans call for the selection of a Queen of Bowling Green Relays, but due to such a late start, they did not materialize. But Coach Matthews stressed the fact that this is just the start of what in the future will probably become a 2-day affair, including a reigning queen and all the "trimmings."

Guests Unlimited For Graduation Unless It Rains

There will be no limit to the number of seniors' guests at graduation exercises this year, unless it rains.

Through the use of cinder block and board benches, the seating capacity of the Amphitheatre has been doubled plus. Under the new arrangements, approximately 1500 can be seated where only 600 formerly were.

In addition, the bleachers will hold approximately 1500, with standing room for 1000 more.

However, in case of rain, the ceremonies will be moved inside of the Men's Gym and it will be necessary to limit the number of guests per graduate to three.

Registrar John W. Bunn, in making the announcement last week, said that the new benches are cinder block and 2 x 10 boards painted green. So far they have been found successful, having been used by several groups on campus this spring.

Booster Lives Again . . .

After a somewhat shaky start this fall it now appears as if the Booster Club once again has its feet on solid ground and is beginning to function as it should. A new emblem, some new vitality, and a few posters like the recent one in the Well are the indications that the pulse is beginning to beat a little more strongly.

School spirit is something that is as trite as some of the phrases found on the sport pages of many of today's newspapers and because of this it isn't easy to get started. People get tired of hearing about school spirit but it is always there when needed.

The job of the Booster Club is to keep school spirit high and it is no easy task. When they do succeed, as they have in the past, they can feel that they have done an outstanding job.

Ugly Man . . .

Bowling Green students get a chance to vote for the ugliest man on campus tomorrow. It is something when instead of voting for beauty or body one can vote for someone who is nothing short of horrible and since the voting is done by depositing money for the favorite, the proceeds will go to the cancer fund.

Even though everyone realizes that this is a popularity contest more than anything else it is one of the easier methods of getting money from people for a worthy cause. Cancer has become a serious problem in this country and every cent cast for one of the ugliest men on campus will aid greatly in fighting this disease.

Letters To The Editor . . .

In accord with the policy of this paper, opinions expressed in letters to the editor are not necessarily those of the BEE GEE NEWS.

Dear Editor:

There are several misunderstandings concerning the Kappa Sigma chariot race of April 22, 1950, that we would like clarified.

1st. Concerning the theme of the chariot itself; during the week of April 9 our chairman of decorations, Jan Smith, called the president of above said fraternity and inquired if the theme of the chariot had to be Greek. He replied that the Greek theme should be carried out.

2nd. At the chariot race of April 22, the Delta Upsilon chariot won first place in decorations. The theme carried out by both chariot and runners was Persian.

3rd. Why were we discouraged from using an original theme?

In endeavoring to continue closer campus cooperation, we followed the rules and suggestions of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

We believe that to insure cooperation and campus spirit in future events all rules concerning contests should be made explicit to every organization participating. We also believe that these rules and regulations be strictly adhered to during the event.

Sincerely,

Jean Esselburn
Ruth Biggs
Nancy Robinson

Frustrated Love, Or Lack Of It, Results In Ulcers

By ANGIE PALERMO

The world of the 20th century is a happy world where there is only "romantic love." In this world, built on shifting sands, love blooms and dies again as quickly as a blinking neon sign.

We find love everywhere — plastered in the buses, crooned over the radio, stuffed in advertising, and glaring from the movies and television. Love sells our men their toothpaste, shaving lotion, hair tonic, breakfast cereal, and pastel shirts. Our men need not be handsome and muscle-bound. With the help of Charles Atlas and multitudes of products, he will be transformed into every girl's dream man.

As a result of the wise use of products, girls also find love and reach the ultimate goal, the engagement ring, and the wedding day. Love is her reward for using deodorants, cold creams, powder, cake make-up, eyelash curlers, mascara, and unlimited numbers of paraphernalia.

The kiss supposedly has extraordinary powers for a man and under its spell he is carried to heaven and plunged into ecstasy. If he is defeated in his attempt to conquer the tall, shapely blonde, it is probably due to his being out-smooched by a rival. Fortunately, an ideal specimen of femininity is lurking in the background and will wed the young man in his terrible delusion.

Doctors today say that love is a protection against ulcers. If the love is not returned, emotional hunger increases the desire for food and sets up a hyperacid condition which may result in an ulcer. Therefore, love, food for romance, prevents ulcers.

We will go on living in this happy world of "romantic love" by using the products guaranteed to bring love; love, in turn, will increase our life span by preventing ulcers.

What A Relief!!

by BOB SMITH

IF THERE ever was such a thing as perfect picnic weather, I do believe Bowling Green had its touch of the same this last weekend. And especially Friday night (not to mention the 2-minute rain flurry that sent many couples diving under blankets or for the nearest shelter).

To say that it is here to stay would be a direct take-off on the tactics of Drs. Gallup and Poll. We stuck our neck out with a week. Remember, too, that element of Bowling Green uniqueness — unpredictability — we won't go out on a limb this time.

So we leave ever-popular topic, the weather, by saying WE HOPE that ideal swimming conditions are with us for the season. We hear that the green light will be given soon for swimming in Urschel Pond, after certain safety measures have been completed.

Possibly before suitcase packing time we'll be able to sit on the Ad Bldg. steps and admire feminine bathing suits as they return from between-class swim periods to soak up a little knowledge.

This could cause a drastic change in "the most popular topic of conversation among students." Instead of the constant haranguing about the car rules, we'll be plagued with complaints against professors who won't permit women wearing bathing suits in their classes. (You lucky people who have Doc Cooke!)

WE CAN'T understand why it's always the same professor who complains when you walk into his class late who keeps you for "just one more minute" when his class hour has terminated. That one more minute often develops into several. Then you race across campus to walk into another class late, and go through the same routine.

If you're in ROTC you get demerits when you arrive in class late. I doubt, though, that you get "good marks" when they dismiss classes late, making you tardy for the next hour's session.

Then, there are always guys like yours truly who can't find an alarm clock that will yank you out of bed instead of stirring up sound waves. What we need in this world are more roosters.

FAMOUS last words: "You drive, you're too drunk to sing."

WHEN YOU hear the old expression, "Look sharp, feel sharp, be sharp!" your thoughts immediately turn to shaving cream, new twist-of-the-wrist razors, Mel Allen, etc.

That reminds us of a different axiom that has possibilities of becoming popular. "Look shot, feel shot, be shot!" It's the slogan of our local chapter of Sigma Omicron Beta, a dishonorary fraternity for degenerate journalists. SOB is another by-product of the recent newspaper convention in Cincinnati, and is a contribution of the staff of the Miami Student bi-weekly. We have four charter members at present, with pledged prospects definitely looking up. Sounds like competition for Press Club.

MY FRIEND Bill Day finally found an eating establishment in Bowling Green to his taste, the Dixie Lunch—the only place in town where they bring out a bowl of sugar (instead of the usual restaurant-type container, remember?) when he walks through the door. Incidentally, he did break down and attend a movie last weekend. He saw "Cinderella."

Squares To Meet

Square and Compass Club will meet in the Fine Arts Aud. Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Art Instructors' Entries Honored At Exhibition

Two more art instructors in Bowling Green University's art dept. have distinguished themselves in their field.

Charles J. Lakofsky and Harry W. Schulke have been informed that they have won first and second prize respectively, in the ceramics division of the May Show of the Cleveland Museum of Art. These men entered a total of 16 prize-winning pieces of pottery in the show. Mr. Lakofsky getting his first-prize award for a group of 10, and Mr. Schulke getting his award for a group of six.

About Lakofsky's work, the Museum's bulletin said, "Seldom have two groups of such distinction been shown in any Cleveland exhibition." The other of the two referred to in this statement was a group entered by Mrs. Irene K. Musiek.

"As remarkable, and even more selective in the techniques used, was the second-prize group of six by Harry Schulke," commented the bulletin on Mr. Schulke's works.

The Museum has purchased one piece of pottery from each of the instructors.

Mr. Lakofsky was graduated from the Cleveland School of Art; got his bachelor's degree from Alfred University, in New York, and his master's from Ohio State University.

Three different scholarships were awarded to Mr. Schulke while he was in school. He has also worked for Abbott Laboratories as an illustrator.

Volunteers Discuss

Student Volunteer Movement will have its first state wide meeting from May 12-14 at Tar Hollow State Forest, to discuss and give information to students interested in church vocations.

The cost for the weekend will be $4 plus transportation.

Any student interested may call Rev. Hollis Hayward at the SCF Office, 7025 or at home, 5281.

CLOSED DANCES

The Nest was converted into a Medieval Castle for the KAPPA DELTA fourth annual "Diamond Dance," in honor of the 1950 initiates, last Friday. WHAT A CLOSE CALL!

An extra something accompanied the feature at a local theatre last week, namely, Chapter 14 of one of those serials dear to the hearts of children, "Batman Vs. Wizard."

In this startling episode, Wizard (invisible) sets off a large explosion in a large factory. As the smoke subsides, Robin (visible) appears on the scene, apparently looking for something or somebody.

Suddenly a door, all of two feet thick, opens from the wall and a figure emerges.

"Batman!" shouts Robin, "I thought that blast had got you!" "It would have," explains our hero calmly, "if I hadn't just stepped into the inner chamber to check my oxygen inhaler."

As the audience gave a collective sigh of relief, a little girl who had just come in turned to her mother and asked, "Is this 'Cinderella'?"

GREETINGS AND BEST WISHES

To Nan Tarr and Bob Mason who were pinned recently, and to Dorothy Perkins and Dallas Bigelow for the same reason.

Also to these engaged couples: Pat Musolf and Bob Wald-bauer, Eileen Nordberg and Dave Long, and Jane Albert and John Swagger.

LET'S ALL SING LIKE THE BIRDIES SING

The birds in the Men's Gym must have been delighted when they found that their home was to be the scene of the fraternity May Sing. Some of them were so bold as to listen from the middle of the floor, while the ones in the rafters added some chirps of their own.

What with the dangers of birds above, pieces of nests falling into laps, and the distraction of dripping water and bells ringing from the PA Bldg., it's a tribute to the fraternities' singing ability that the entire audience didn't "Steal Away."

Runners Win At Hillsdale; Await Relays

By DICK SOMMERS

Bowling Green's thinclads won their second dual meet Saturday, defeating Hillsdale College, 88-47. The win gave the Falcon runners an even 2-2 record for the season.

High winds hampered both teams during the meet, preventing any good times from being turned in. Hillsdale gave the Falcons stiff competition for first places, but lacked depth and lost points by failing to place men in the second and third positions.

Frank Kilgore ran to his fourth consecutive victory in the mile run, with Lee Pate winning the two mile event. Bruce King surprised in the javelin throw, winning with a toss of 170 feet. This was the first time King had heaved the javelin this year, and he came within a few feet of breaking the school record.

Vern Stroud won his specialty, the high jump, leaping an even six feet. Ernie Jackson made a good 21-6 broad jump to capture that event.

This week will be spent in preparation for the BG-Relays which will be held here Saturday. To date, six class A and two class B schools have entered the first annual event.

Meet The Falcons

Honner - - - Baseball

By GENE VEERKA

Glenn Honner has played a lot of baseball for the Falcons in the last three years, the kind of baseball that will be badly missed when he graduates this June.

Why? The stocky outfielder from Maumee has led the team in hitting for three consecutive years plus being an important cog in the outfield. He batted a cool .394 in his freshman year, .387 in his sophomore stretch, and a sizzling .435 last season.

When asked about his biggest thrill at the plate, he will quickly point out last year's Toledo game. With Bee Gee trailing 3 to 0 and the bases loaded, Glenn connected with a 3-0 pitch for a home run. The Falcons went on to win 17 to 6.

An army veteran of three years in the European Theatre, Glenn had a tryout with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1946 at Sanford, Fla. He was under the tutelage of Gene Hermanski and Ed Stanky but after nine days of the 30-day tryout, he decided that the "competition was too keen" and he dropped out.

During the summertime, Glenn is busy playing outfield for the Smith Chevrolet nine of Perrysburg in the Toledo Federation. They won the city championship in 1948 and 1949. While in high school, he played no baseball at all.

A member of Delta Upsilon fraternity and the Varsity Club, the fleet Falcon is majoring in Industrial Management. Glenn plans to marry Rita Brahier, a coed at Bee Gee last year, on June 17.

Sailing Club Wins Third Place At Ann Arbor Meet

Bowling Green's Sailing Club took 3rd place at the Regional Eliminations at Ann Arbor, last weekend.

Skippers were Bill Critzer with Barney McArdle as crew, and Glenn Smith with Ruby Deuling as crew. University of Michigan won the regatta with Purdue placing second.

Other schools attending were Michigan State, Wayne, and Oberlin.

This 3rd place entitles BG to go to the District Eliminations at Ohio State on May 20.

The 1949 Falcon outdoor track squad won five and lost two in dual meets.

Intersquad Game

Varsity and freshmen members of the football team will conclude their spring practice when they meet in an intersquad game Thursday afternoon.

Falcons Take Pair--Tesnow Leads Hitting

By JIM DUERK

Great hitting by Howie Tesnow and superb pitching by Bob Lybarger and Lou Cross gave the Bowling Green baseball Falcons a pair of week-end wins to run their record to five wins as against a single loss.

Friday night they disposed of Defiance College for the second time this season, 13-1, in a night game at Holgate and Saturday traveled to Wayne U. in Detroit and returned with a 9-2 victory.

In the Wayne contest, the Motor City crew jumped to a 2-1 lead in the second inning. After a short pitchers' dual, Bee Gee combined four hits, two by Tesnow, three errors, and a fielders choice for seven runs and a lead they never relinquished.

Lou Cross struck out three and walked none while spreading six hits over the nine-inning stretch. Vogt hurled for Wayne and allowed eight hits, also going the distance.

Tesnow had a field day, getting three for four, including a double. Cross belted two singles.

Line score:

	R.	H.	E.
BG	010	007	001
Wayne	200	000	000

Fireman Bob Lybarger, in great form for his first college start, set the Defiance hitters down with five bingles, two of which were responsible for the Yellow Jackets' only run in the fifth.

The rougher the situation, Lybarger seemed to like it better. Several times he pitched calmly and got out of holes.

Slick Spicer and Matthews worked for Defiance and together whiffed eight and passed 10.

Howie Tesnow started his current hitting rampage with a bases-loaded homer and a single to lead the Falcon offense. Joe Gulla and Lybarger each chipped in with two singles.

Line score:

	R.	H.	E.
BG	014	015	003
D. Coll.	000	101	000

Frosh Net Team Wins Over Ohio Northern Varsity

Bowling Green's freshman tennis team won its opening match of the season Thursday, beating Ohio Northern's varsity at Ada, 5-2.

Dean Bacon, Dick Krueger, and Bill Leakas won singles matches for the Falcons. Bacon decided Ohio's Murphy, 6-3, 6-2; Krueger defeated Goldin, 7-5, 6-3; and Leakas won over Stuckey, 6-3, 6-2.

Eddie Kwok finally bowed to Northern's Gilder, after winning a long first set, 12-10, 4-6, 3-6 and Bill Griffiths lost to Herman, 3-6, 2-6.

The frosh will be on the road again this weekend for their second match, playing the Bluffton College varsity there Friday.

Both doubles matches went to the Falcons, Bacon and Griffiths teaming for a 6-4, 6-2 triumph while Edgar Ramsey and Krueger were winning, 6-2, 6-4.

Golf Team Faces Strenuous Week

Don Cunningham's golfers take over as "busiest spring sports squad" this week as they engage in three dual meets and then go to Columbus for a try at the Ohio Collegiate title next Monday.

Lawrence Tech will oppose the Falcon swingers at the local Country Club this afternoon in a match originally scheduled earlier in the year, but postponed because of rain.

Mason Shuts Out Kappa Sigma But Sigma Chi Leads

Steve Mason hurled the first shutout this year in the Fraternity Softball League, his 4-0 whitewash job giving ATO the nod over Kappa Sigma Saturday.

SAE strengthened their grip on third place by trimming Phi Delta, 11-6.

Pi Kappa Alpha took undisputed possession of fourth place as they buried Beta Sigma under a barrage of runs, 20-9.

In other games Saturday, Chi Alpha topped DTD 12-5 and Delta Upsilon scored a 10-4 victory over ZBT.

Chapman and Hooper Jones swept all nine points from the Wayne number one and two men to give BG the edge.

Chapman was the medalist with a 77 as high winds sent the scores soaring. Jones had 78 and their bestball total of 69 was also good for three points.

Hugh Skelley lost 2 1/2 points with his 82 and Bob Combs scored 86, losing 2 1/2 points also. The Skelley-Combs bestball of 77 could gain only 1/2 point from their Wayne opponents who had 73.

HOOPER JONES, BG golf captain, puts a putt against Wayne Friday, while Jack Chapman, Falcon No. 1 man, watches. Bowling Green won the match, played in a high wind, 10 1/2-7 1/2.

A BARTLETTGRAM—

Tom Bartlett Says:

THE GAME OF SELLING... This game takes a few personal qualities to do a good job... Lots of students have them, others have to develop them... There are many and which should come first it would be hard to say... But a self study and analysis of yourself would be a good way to start... No wdays they have a lot of tests you can take... I believe PERSISTANCE is one of the first things to have... Too many give up on about the 8th hole... With this it takes COURAGE and that ain't easy to have at all times... IMAGINATION is necessary if you want to get ahead... Also INITIATIVE, OBSERVATION and AMBITION... It has been said that "Too many people quit looking for work when they find a job." So you see you need AMBITION...
